

Reading your book was almost though you were here talking to me.

I do hope people who read Castaway Kid will realize that they can make something of themselves even if life wasn't good growing up.

God was trying to take care of you, Robby, even when you didn't know God personally.

God bless you, come back and see me when you can.

Love, Nola