Castaway Kid

DISCUSSION GUIDE

R.B. Mitchell

CHAPTER 1: Cast Away

	ng events and unchosen circumstances were imposed on three-year-old events and circumstances have been imposed on people you know?
	other than being abandoned at an orphanage, might someone feel so lonely that he or she could say, "The only one left to hug me was me"?
IAPTE	2: Little Boys
American or	phanage life of the 1950s and 1960s is depicted in this chapter. s of it were new to you?
	of care did the church in Princeton provide? What roles do you think all uld play in helping orphans?
-	feel about Nola? What possible effects do you think she had on f "her boys"?
	The Termede
IAPIE	R 3: The Tornado
Why did Rob	by stop calling Joyce "Mommy" and start calling her "Mother"?
-	feel about that?

CHAPTER 4: Different

The author says that kids he knew in the Home "preferred poverty if they were loved, rags if they were cared for, and homelessness if someone they loved wanted them." Do you think this is typical of children? Why or why not?
Younger kids at the Home believed their lives would get better if they could just return to their families. If you were counseling them, what would you say?
Why did Robby cry out with groanings too deep for words, giving up hope? How would you encourage someone who felt that kind of despair?
CHAPTER 5: Kidnapped
If a niece or nephew you were close to had been abducted as Robby was, how would you try to help him or her understand why it happened? How would you help him or her recover?
How would you describe Robby's relationship with God at the end of this chapter?
EXTRA NOTES

CHAPTER 6: The Doctors

	How would you respond to Robby's observation that "boys must be easier to throw away than girls"?
	On the train ride back from visiting the doctors, Robby asked a question he'd never asked before, one that haunted him. What was it? What other kinds of experiences (divorce or death, for example) might cause someone to raise that question?
	Robby also asked, "Am I going to be crazy, too, like my parents?" How would you answer a child who struggles with these questions?
C	HAPTER 7: Gigi's Gift
	Why did Robby reject foster care? How did a quote from Anne of Green Gables affect his decision?
	If you'd been in the author's place, what decision might you have made about foster care? Why?

Epilogue

The book opens with this quote from Booker T. Washington: "Character, not circumstances, makes the man." The epilogue contains Rob's comment that "The mark of a person . . . is not just in how one acts but also in how one reacts." How are these statements similar? Do you agree or disagree with them? Why?

Based on this story, what do you think is the best road to healing for someone who's been wounded by his or her past? What principle from this book would you most like to practice during the coming year?
